U.S. Adds Eight To Ship Blacklist

United Press International
The United States Government yesterday blacklisted eight more foreign-flag ships for trading with Cuba.

The vessels now are ineligible to carry United States Government-financed cargoes from the United States. A total of 235 ships are on the list, which was begun Jan. 1, 1963.

Ships added to the list yesterday were the British ships Free Merchant, Newdene, Sea Empress and Soclyve, the Lebanese ships Al Amin and Nictic, the French ship Mungo and the Moroccan ship Marakech.
